Bill 100
(2016, chapter 22)

An Act to amend various legislative provisions respecting mainly transportation services by taxi

Introduced 12 May 2016
Passed in principle 8 June 2016
Passed 10 June 2016
Assented to 10 June 2016
EXPLANATORY NOTES

This Act modifies the framework for regulating transportation services by taxi in Québec but maintains the principle of a single legal regime for such services.

The Act specifies the remunerated passenger transportation services that are not taxi transportation services subject to the Act respecting transportation services by taxi.

The Government is granted the power to determine the number of servicing areas and the territory of each one, as well as the maximum number of taxi owner’s permits that the Commission des transports du Québec may issue in each area. The Government may also set the additional annual duties payable to obtain, maintain or renew the taxi owner’s permits it specifies. Those duties are paid into the Land Transportation Network Fund and are allocated to financing the modernization of transportation services by taxi.

Holders of a taxi transportation service intermediary’s permit have new obligations. They must, at all times, provide taxi transportation service request distribution services throughout the territory of each servicing area they serve. They must also provide all persons having requested a trip with a means enabling them to assess the quality of the services rendered by the holder of a taxi driver’s permit. Lastly, the holder of a taxi transportation service intermediary’s permit must make a by-law on the standards of conduct and ethics which the holder must uphold and with which the holders of a taxi owner’s permit and holders of a taxi driver’s permit to whom the holder provides services must also comply.

The Commission des transports du Québec is required to set the basic rate structure that applies for all servicing areas and is given the power to set special rates which may vary depending on the servicing area and the categories of transportation services. The rate structure set by the Commission may also vary based on the day or time of day when the transportation service is provided. In addition, a fare may differ from the rates set by the Commission according to the technological means used to request the taxi transportation service, to the extent and on the conditions prescribed by government regulation.
The Act grants new inspection and inquiry powers to persons responsible for ascertaining compliance with the Act and the regulations. Provision is also made for new penal and administrative penalties for non-compliance with the Act, such as suspending the driver’s licence of a person providing taxi transportation services without holding the appropriate licence or permit, and seizing the automobile the person is driving.

The Taxi Industry Advisory Panel is abolished.

The Act alters the scope of pilot projects that may be authorized by ministerial order in particular to provide that any such project may apply to holders of a taxi transportation services intermediary’s permit, may have different standards and rules than those prescribed by the laws or regulations under the Minister’s administration and must comply with the principle of equity toward holders operating under any permit at the time the pilot project is implemented.

The Act also contains safety measures for cyclists. The Highway Safety Code is amended to increase fines for dooring, and the minimum distance that a motor vehicle must keep when passing a bicycle is specified.

Lastly, consequential amendments and transitional measures are made.
